

ELENA MILITELLO

RESEARCHER AND ACTIVIST

PROFILE

I am a strongly motivated, curious, and compassionate young woman aiming to live in a multicultural and innovative context. I am both a researcher, currently a Visiting Scholar at the Center for European Studies at Harvard, and a policymaking activist, as the Founder and President of the Italian NGO on territorial cohesion "South Working".

CURRENT ROLES

Visiting Scholar

Harvard University
Minda de Gunzburg Center for European Studies
Cambridge, Massachusetts

Founder and President

"South Working - Lavorare dal Sud A.P.S."®
Palermo, Italy

SKILLS

Organizational Skills:

Team Coordination
Digital Transformation
Crisis Management
Teamwork

Analytical Skills:

Advocacy & Policymaking
Legal Research
Comparative Law
Multilinguism

CONTACTS

Phone: 857-242-9751
E-mail: elenamilitello@fas.harvard.edu;
elena.militello@southworking.org
Site web: www.elenamilitello.com
Address: 540 Memorial Drive #1005 - 02139 Cambridge
LinkedIn: @elena-militello
Press review: link

WORK EXPERIENCES

University of Messina
Researcher and Faculty Member
Comparative Criminal Procedure
Since November 2020

University of Luxembourg
Research and Development Specialist (post-doc researcher)
2020

Criminal Courthouse in Palermo
Judicial Clerk - Parole office
2019

Clifford Chance LLP (Milan)
Trainee Lawyer in the White collar crime and regulatory affairs Department 2016

Permanent Mission of Italy to the United Nations (New York City)
Intern in the Legal Affairs Department
2015

EDUCATION

Ph.D. in Law and Humanities
University of Insubria in Como
2016-2020

Max Planck Institute for the Study of Crime, Security and Law in Freiburg
Visiting Ph.D. Candidate
2018-2019

Loyola Law School in Los Angeles
Visiting Scholar
2018

Combined Bachelor and Master Degree in Law
Bocconi University in Milan
2010-2015